> POLICE COURT NOTES. Various Cases up Before the District Magistrate Yesterday. In the police court yesterday the cases of Ah Nui for robbery and Lam Foon for accessory, which have been hanging fire for some days, were nolle pross'd and defendants discharged. The same Chinamen plead guilty to the charge of assault and battery on Kahilialau, an old native, and were each fined $30 and costs. Lee Chun, the Chinaman who came to the police station some time ago with information about certain opium, and was later arrested for having opium unlawfully in his possession, plead "not guilty" to the charge. Case continued until January 30th. Kaloa plead guilty to the charge of larceny in the second degree by stealing five newspapers from J. M. Webb.

Sentence suspended until moved on by the prosecution. Ah Sam was found guilty of assault and battery on a native and was fined $20 and costs. After a long trial Ah Young was found not guilty of assault and battery, and defendant was discharged.
